Publication Explanation

1. This collection of papers, for the most part, consists of recent research papers and/or summaries of recent research papers from the Chinese Academy of Somatic Science and the Chinese Research Center for Somatic Science. However, it also includes a small number of papers by our academy's (and center's) researchers from several years back.

2. Except for those marked with an asterisk (*), the authors of this collection are all researchers appointed to this academy; for the sake of brevity, this will not be referred to again in the text.

3. Due to the haste in getting this into print, it was difficult to avoid some errors in this collection; it is hoped that the reader will critique and correct.

Foreword

The Chinese Academy of Somatic Science and the Chinese Research Center for Somatic Science have been in existence for some two years. They are charged with providing the mechanism for research in somatic science. At present, aside from the academy, its three subordinate centers and five research offices carry the load that includes the national natural sciences' funding of the many national, provincial and municipal level research subjects. Beginning with 1991, with hard work on the part of many areas, a research foundation for the Chinese Academy of Somatic Science and the Chinese Research Center for Somatic Science was also established. Under the sponsorship of the Academic Committee of the "Somatic Academy" and "Somatic Center," 32 funded subjects have now been approved, its contents involve research into "functional states," physical and chemical effects of extraordinary human body functions, biomedical scientific research into the effects of extraordinary human body functions basic theory extraordinary human body functions, extraordinary consciousness and sensitivity, extraordinary motivations and traditional Chinese medicine systemic theory, etc. At present, part of the subjects have achieved initial results, presented to everyone as a gift through the Chinese Somatic Society's Board of Directors.

The Chinese Academy of Somatic Science and the Chinese Research Center for Somatic Science form a common research structure for all scholars in somatic science. We wish to develop continually the interchange of domestic and foreign academics, and welcome those scholars who are in somatic science to come to our academy (center) and take on research topics.

Developing somatic science and revealing life's secrets are our common enterprise. Raising the level of mankind's health and intelligence and increasing productivity are our common ambition. Let us join hands and till this hard piece of soil to get its rich fruits.

We hope that his collection of papers will be enlightening for you.
